

Draft By-law 3: Membership

Consultation Summary

Background

The Emergency Class provisions have been activated, and the CRTC is currently in the process of integrating these new regulatory amendments. This involves updating the By-laws to reflect the introduction of the new class of registration.

During the review process, only minor adjustments were identified in By-Laws 1: General CRTC Administration and 2: Council & Committees. However, By-law 3: Membership required more substantial revision related to the fees that will apply to Emergency Class. At the December 1, 2023, meeting, Council approved the posting of the draft revised By-law 3 for public consultation. The consultation period concluded on February 8, 2024, and all By-Law amendments are now under consideration for final approval by the Council.

Please note that applications to the Emergency Class will be accepted only when the CRTC Council or the government determines that there is an emergency situation and that registering applicants in the Emergency Class is in the public interest.

Consultation Feedback Details

The draft by-law amendments were made available for consultation on the CRTC website on December 7, 2023. A link to the consultation survey was prominently displayed on the CRTC's website homepage slider and was shared through CRTC's social media accounts and the December e-blast.

The consultation survey garnered 347 views, with two respondents completing it. Both respondents found the proposed revisions to be clear and understandable. However, one respondent noted potential omissions and/or errors in the By-Law. No additional changes have been proposed to the By-law as a result of the feedback received.
